WATCHING SERVICE

A highly specialized service, the purpose of which is to advise the shipper promptly of rate changes and action of the Interstate Commerce Commission and Shipping Board Bureau of the Department of Commerce in all matters coming before those bodies in which he may have an interest. It is a comprehensive service, covering your traffic and, of equal importance, your competitors' traffic. Prompt advice in the above respects is essential to a maintenance of proper rate relationships, a matter of utmost importance to the shipper.

On advice as to your plant location, your inbound and outbound commodities, and, in general terms, their origin and destination, we keep you constantly informed on all matters that may affect the rates on which you ship.

All rate changes published in tariffs filed with the Commission and Shipping Board Bureau; complaints, petitions, and applications filed with the Commission and Shipping Board, including applications for publication of rates on short notice and petitions for suspension of rates, and the action of the Commission and Shipping Board Bureau thereon, are promptly reported. Supporting documents are forwarded without cost, except where a cash outlay is necessary.

The service is your insurance against losses that may result when you fail to receive a new tariff or supplement from the carriers; when rates are changed on short notice and you don't hear about the change in time; when the Commission suspends a reduced rate on which you ship or an increased rate on which a competitor ships; when you fail, through lack of knowledge of its publication, to petition the Commission or Shipping Board Bureau for the suspension of an unfavorable rate on which you ship, or one that unduly favors your competitors; if there is a transit service you have overlooked, or if transit privileges at any point are to be cancelled.

The service goes far beyond that ordinarily and usually available.

On your request we will (a) place your inquiry on our "docket" and advise you of any action taken by the Commission or parties in interest to any proceeding; (b) furnish any government document, including Congressional bills; (c) reproduce, or prepare a digest of, complaints, testimony, briefs, proposed reports, and decisions in proceedings before the Commission or Shipping Board Bureau when copies are not available; (d) interpret tariffs filed with the Commission or Shipping Board Bureau; (e) advise as to the liability of common carriers of goods; (f) analyze and digest decisions of the courts and Commission in carrier rate and regulatory matters; (g) act as your Washington contact representative. The only limita ion is that the amount of work involved shall not be too extensive.

It is a service you should not be without, and the cost is moderate.

Additional information about this service and the cost are yours without obligation if you will write to the
